REMEMBERING THE LESSONS OF WOODSTOCK NOW MORE THAN EVER!

Rev. Violet Young

When I last wrote this column in 2019 it was the 50th Anniversary of Woodstock. I wrote about my first trip away from home being to that incredible, now iconic, event and the way that being there had been a major turning point in my life. NOW, MORE THAN EVER BEFORE, I feel that we need to utilize the teachings of Woodstock and relearn what it is like to live without fear. Because at Woodstock, in the face of 500,000 people all crowded together in a relatively small space with little food, few and bad toilet facilities, major rain, mud, and challenging winds, where it all could have gone horribly wrong and become violent, somehow the people who were there CHOSE to go to a place of KINDNESS, COOPERATION and UNCONDITIONAL LOVE. The creation of the cooperation at that event was something that I had never seen growing up. No one asked how much, or if, you had money. No one complained that it was wet, windy muddy and sometimes really hot. We talked with each other, got to know each other, listened to music together, shared whatever food came around, cleaned up the trash with the bags that came around to fill, and, in general, basically behaved like humans in community do...with KINDNESS, COMPASSION, COOPERATION and UNCONDITIONAL LOVE. I never heard racial or ethnic slurs, women were treated equally and I heard no nasty shouting and saw no aggressive behavior. (I was from Boston, there was more action like that on the subway).

Living through the devastation of COVID with the separation and deaths of friends and family, the social distancing in public, the masks, the miseries and loneliness, created a culture of fear. We did need to protect ourselves and we did so vociferously. Thanks to the many different individuals and groups who managed to bridge the gaps creating positivity with food banks, food deliveries, hot meals for people, on line classes, etc. these efforts made a huge dent in the separation and sadness people felt with their world changing in ways they had never experienced.

But now in the aftermath of COVID, with rampant gun violence in our country, most of the news media hawking their thirst for misery, and the sadness of those who are mourning whom they have lost has turned into a palpable fear that is attacking many people. In my 74 years I don't think that I have ever felt the polarization of the population so vividly. Many seem to have somehow forgotten that as United States citizens we have a job to do which is to be the best citizens we can be, forging caring and support for those around us, especially those of us who are less fortunate. We do see this attribute during times of natural or manmade disasters where people jump up to help, but then that enthusiasm wanes when the disaster is as abated as they get. That natural desire to help needs to stay current and functioning every day to make our country and world more livable.

At some point in our own personal histories we all come from immigrants to this country. Many of our families can, in fact, trace their beginnings in the United States to Ellis Island. Unless you are a Native American, we collectively ALL GOT HERE ORIGINALLY from somewhere else. What makes us now not immigrants is the fact that we were born on this soil, but we didn't start out that way back in our family history.

When you look at it that way, we need to see how our ancestors (even the ones that aren't blood) treated the Original People of the now United States. That isn't a pretty picture at all. IT IS UP TO US TO REMEMBER and to start remembering that we are ambassadors of our United States. We are ambassadors to each other. It is UP TO US TO BE KIND TO EACH OTHER. That is something that cannot be mandated, it must come from the heart when we look inside of us to find COMPASSION, EMPATHY and KINDNESS.

We need to remember that we are on a round ball hurtling through space and time. Many of us cling to things that have no meaning while not holding UNCONDITIONAL LOVE FOR OUR SIBLINGS OF EVERY COLOR AND CREED. Remember every one of us bleeds red. Everyone of us had parents, some siblings or children. Everyone of us needs clean water and food to exist. Everyone of us needs air to breathe to exist. We need to start looking at the things that bring and bind us together rather than the differences that tear us apart. It is time to heal the divide and look at the MUCH BIGGER PICTURE.

Change by Rev. Violet Young

Change is just change and nothing more.

If you mix change with fear

It shuts the growth door.

Discover you're worthy of change without fear.

Following your bliss is what brings God near.

Discover your worth and you can uncover,
The strength to take risks and be like none other.

Won/One

I Won, You Won, We Won.

I One, You One, We One.

And when we are all One,

Then we will have all Won.

We CAN continue down the path of fear, separation, loneliness, depression, anger and possible violence.

Or we CAN CHOOSE TO CREATE A DIFFERENT NEIGHBORHOOD, COMMUNITY, COUNTY, STATE and WORLD based on a cohesiveness made of KINDNESS, COMPASSION, EMPATHY, AWARENESS and UNCONDITIONAL LOVE just like the 500,000 people did at Woodstock lo those 54 years ago.

The Woodstock Lessons: Be kind everywhere you go. Notice someone in need and help. Know your neighbors. Discover connections with people you don't know. People are often in pain; it affects how they operate their lives. Ask questions, don't assume you know what someone's dealing with. Be compassionate. People need emotional support and sometimes don't know how to ask for it, including yourself.

I live these lessons every day. My First Trip Away From Home Was To Woodstock...I'm Still There. Want to join me?

MAY THE LIGHT OF LOVE

David Roth is one of my favorite singer/songwriters. The words to his song May The Light of Love capture the essence of my feelings and are reprinted with his permission.

As we come around to take our places at the table
A moment to remember and reflect upon our wealth
Here's to loving friends and family, Here's to being able
To gather here together in good company and health

May we be released from all those feelings that would harm us
May we have the will to give them up and get them gone
For heavy are the satchels full of anger and false promise
May we have the strength to put them down

May we wish the best for everyone that we encounter
May we swallow pride and may we do away with fear
For it's only what we do not know that we have grown afraid of
And only what we do not choose to hear

As we bless our daily bread and drink our day's libations
May we be reminded of the lost and wayward soul
The hungry and the homeless that we have in every nation
May we fill each empty cup and bowl

May nothing ever come between or threaten to divide us
May we never take for granted all the gifts that we receive
Being ever mindful of the unseen hands that guide us
And the miracles that cause us the believe

May the light of love be shining deep within your spirit
May the torch of mercy clear the path and show the way
May the horn of plenty sound so everyone can hear it
May the light of love be with you every day.

THE PRAYER OF
SAINT FRANCIS OF ASSISI

Lord,
 Make me an instrument of thy peace.
 Where there is hatred let me sow love;
 Where there is injury, pardon;
 Where there is doubt, faith;
 Where there is despair, hope;
 Where there is darkness, light; and
 Where there is sadness, joy.

O Divine Master,
 Grant that I may not so much
 Seek to be consoled as to console;
 To be understood as to understand;
 To be loved as to love;
 For it is in giving that we receive;
 It is in pardoning that we are pardoned, and
 It is in dying that we are born to eternal life.
